Ellerby Energy & Resources (EENRES) Partners with Beth Allen, Ladies European Tour Number One, to Launch a New Energy and Resources Company in Dubai, the City of Gold

Dubai, United Arab Emirates, December 5, 2016 -- Ellerby Energy & Resources, LLC. (EENRES) is pleased to announce its sponsorship with Beth Allen, currently the No. 1-ranked golfer on the Ladies European Tour, for the upcoming OMEGA Dubai Ladies Masters.

“We feel that launching this new company with professional golfer, Beth Allen, currently in Dubai, the ‘City of Gold,’ as our representative was a good fit,” said Ellerby. “Dubai is known for its gold trading and a dedicated Gold & Commodities Exchange (DGCX). Dubai recorded its highest daily volume in July 2016 valued at USD 3.6Bn, and recently signed an agreement with Shanghai Gold Exchange (SGE), the world’s largest physical bullion exchange.”

As an energy and resources company focused on the acquisition of low-risk, high reward assets, EENRES is in the process of completing its first gold resource acquisition located in the “Tintina Gold Belt” region in the Yukon Territory, Canada. “This asset provides a solid economical platform that will allow EENRES to enter the market and sustain within the initial growth stage,” said Sarah Ellerby, CEO of EENRES.

EENRES plans to exploit its proprietary pipeline of assets and diversify the portfolio with diamond, lithium and oil acquisitions, delivering a sustainable return platform for shareholders. “I’m excited to be representing Ellerby Energy & Resources in Dubai. When Sarah Ellerby approached me with the opportunity to help increase visibility of the company, I knew right away it was a perfect fit. I’m looking forward to a bright future in partnership with EENRES.”

“Purely from a brand perspective, Beth has it all – talent, personality, influence and a platform to engage with the consumer,” explained Ellerby. “This is a winning combination for companies, like ours, that are interested in reaching the world-wide golf demographic.”
